NETIQUETTE:

Students taking online courses should follow the universal Netiquette guidelines below:

Communicating with your instructor:

- DO NOT TYPE IN ALL CAPS, PLEASE. Typing a text all caps is inappropriate because it is perceived as yelling.
- Be pro-active. Exhaust all avenues before asking a question. For instance, if you need to know the professor's office hours, check the banner on the Moodle page or the course guidelines. Questions about the grade breakdown? Check out the syllabus under General Information in Moodle. Need to know the due dates for assignments? You will find them in the chronogram. If you still have a question, write to your professor.
- Proofread your assignments before submitting to your instructor. Always use proper spelling, grammar, capitalization, and punctuation.
- Read first. Before responding to an email, chat, or forum, make sure you read the previous discussions first. You need to know what other people have answered or asked so you do not duplicate efforts, hindering the class from moving forward to subsequent topics.
- Submit files in the format assigned by your instructor. When submitting any assignment, always follow your instructor's rules, e.g. format and content. Ignoring these instructions is bad netiquette and could lead to losing points on the assignment.
- Conduct yourself professionally on email and while online. A common netiquette error is to treat e-correspondence with faculty and staff as an ongoing chat among friends.

Communicating with Fellow Students:

EVALUATION:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Avoid sarcasm, harmful words or phrases, obscene language. Sarcasm can lead to misguided arguments online. Therefore, be careful with jokes, hurtful words, or obscene language, that could come across as distasteful or rude.</li><li>• Respect people's opinions. If you want to express your disagreement with an argument presented by another student, do so respectfully. Begin your argument with phrases like: "I do not agree with your opinion because..." or "Your point is understood, however..."</li><li>• Be precise when answering questions asked by your classmates. When replying to a fellow student's question about assignment instructions or due dates, please be 100% certain of your answer. Do not guess; do not misinform.</li><li>• Do not abuse the chat box. Please, use the chat box for comments or questions relevant to the course. Chat boxes are for sharing ideas but can distract when loaded with irrelevant comments.</li><li>• Conduct yourself professionally on email and while online. A common netiquette error is to treat e-correspondence with faculty and staff as an ongoing chat among friends.</li><li>• Be kind and show empathy. Because the Internet has some level of anonymity, some people tend to behave rudely. Make a point to always be respectful- even if you disagree. You can debate any subject without hurting other people.</li><li>• Think before you type. " Whether or not privacy settings are in place, the internet has a tendency to house things forever, and what you say privately can easily become public," advises etiquette expert Devoreaux Walton.</li></ul>
